JURY GAVE NO DAMAGES TO FRANCES C. BIRKHEAD

But Did Not Say that Gov. Russell Was Not Guilty of Immoral Conduct. Many of Russell's Friends Think Bilbo the Cause of Suit Being Filed. Bilbo Hid Out. Warrant Issued For Bilbo's Arrest for Failure to Appear. Russell Immediately Announced for the Senate Against Pat Harrison.

Oxford, Miss., Dec. 12. (Associated Press).—A verdict for the defendant was returned by the jury in the United States district court here early last night in the trial of the suit of Miss Frances Cleveland Birkhead, stenographer, against Lee M. Russell, governor of Mississippi for damages based on charges of seduction and other serious allegations. The verdict—the climax of one of the most sensational lawsuits ever filed in a Mississippi court—was returned at 6:08 o'clock, just 28 minutes after the arguments were concluded, instructions given and the case submitted.

It contained only the required seven words: "We, the jury find for the defendant."

Judge E. R. Holmes, who presided at the trial, was in the lobby of the building when word came from the jury room that the jury was ready to report. Court was reconvened, the jury filed in, its verdict was read and within three minutes from the time the verdict was presented court had adjourned and the trial of Mississippi's most widely discussed case in a decade had passed into history.

Submission of the case to the jury followed four hours of argument in which pleas—brilliant and abounding with dramatic and intense supplications—were made to the jury on the one hand for the exoneration of the governor and on the other for a verdict upholding the contention of the young woman that she had been wronged by the state executive and was deserving of redress.

The governor and Mrs. Russell returned to the court house as soon as they were advised that a verdict had been returned, and personally thanked the jurors.

"At the end of the long trial I am deeply grateful to the jury who so patiently and courteously listened to all the evidence in the case and who rendered such a prompt and righteous verdict, which I trust and believe will be accepted by all irrespective of political affiliations or factions, as a complete vindication of my good name and that of my native state," Governor Russell said in a formal statement tonight.

"I also want to return my most grateful acknowledgments to Judge E. R. Holmes, who so ably presided and whose rulings and charge to the jury were so just and impartial that no exceptions were taken thereto by either side.

"Let me also express my deep and keen appreciation to those members of the press who endeavored to give a fair and just report of all the proceedings. And over and above them all, I want to thank my friends everywhere most warmly and cordially for their loyalty and abiding faith in my innocence through it all."

M. S. McNeill, chief counsel for Miss Birkhead, stated that he would have no statement to make at this time with reference to the suit.

Miss Birkhead referred newspaper men to Mr. McNeill.

It was stated that only one ballot was taken by the jury.

Russell Announces for the Senate. Russell is a candidate for the United States Senate and will try to unseat Senator Pat Harrison in 1924. "Are you a candidate for the United States senate?" Russell was asked last night, half an hour after he had received the verdict. "I am," Russell replied with a smile.

Oxford, Miss., (Special) Dec. 12.—If the Birkhead-Russell suit does nothing else it seems that it has made an impassable barrier between Russell and Bilbo and that Russell now stands ahead of Bilbo in the Vardaman faction.

There has been much speculation about the reasons that made the Ex-Governor "hide out" during the trial, especially after all his seeming bravado when the Birkhead suit was filed last February. It has leaked out here from some of Gov. Russell's close political friends that when Bilbo was negotiating with Miss Birkhead that he was acting as an attorney for Russell and that the Governor had papers that would show that, which, if correct, and had Bilbo appeared as a witness against Russell as he said he was going to do when the suit was filed, would no doubt brought legal proceedings against Bilbo to disbar him.

It is no secret that there is a pretty well defined sentiment among many of the Governor's friends that Bilbo was really the prime mover in getting Miss Birkhead to file the suit against Russell. There are those who say that Miss Birkhead has letters from Bilbo which show that he was intimately acquainted with all the affairs which are alleged to have taken place between Miss Birkhead and Gov. Russell after Miss Birkhead left Oxford and had begun to regain her health. There seems to be little doubt that Bilbo had much to do with the statement that appeared in the New Orleans Item in which Miss Birkhead went much into details as to the suit and her alleged relations with the Governor.

There does seem to be many tears being shed over the enmity which apparently exists between Bilbo and Russell who were at one time playing the Damon and Pythias in Mississippi politics. It is no uncommon thing to hear it said among those who have looked on this salacious suit that "the little piney woods devil" is a wiry duck and hard to find at one place long at a time."

"BILBO WILL ANSWER," SAYS JUDGE HOLMES

Oxford, Miss., Dec. 12.—Former Gov. Theo. G. Bilbo will be found. Take the word of Judge E. R. Holmes of the United States court, for it.

Judge Holmes today increased the bond of Bilbo, who failed to respond to a summons as a witness in the Birkhead-Russell case, and disregarded also a citation for contempt, to $5,000 and ordered him immediately located, arrested and held to appear before him at the April term at Oxford.

Attorneys for Miss Frances Birkhead insisted upon the severest penalty for the recalcitrant witness. Judge Holmes plainly resented Bilbo's attitude.

THE KITCHEN CABINET ORCHESTRA

A very good crowd was highly pleased and delighted with the "Kitchen Cabinet Orchestra" which was presented in the high school auditorium on Monday night. The young "men" composing the orchestra got some really good music from their instruments—pots, pans, boilers, sausage grinders, percolators, potato mashers, and various other kitchen utensils—and the audience was greatly surprised and more than pleased. During the rendition of the wedding march, one of the little Kettle girls, dressed as a charming bride, on the arm of the handsome groom, one of the little McCormick boys, preceded by the maid of honor and the best man, the former a twin sister of the bride and the latter a twin brother of the groom, marched into the auditorium and onto the stage where they were greeted with hearty applause.

From the compliments that were heard, it is apparent that the Kitchen Cabinet Orchestra will have to play a return engagement in Grenada.

BRILLIANT WEDDING AT OAKSLEA; EDW. T. DUN. CAN-MISS LUCY GREEN

The wedding at Oakslea Saturday evening was lovely in detail and in ensemble rarely brilliant.

Oakslea is the stately home of Dr. and Mrs. Jere Crook, and their sister, Miss Lucy Williams Green, was married at 8:30 o'clock to Mr. Edward Townes Duncan of Mississippi; the Right Reverend Wm. Mercer Green, Bishop of Mississippi, the officiant.

A lofty dignity and majestic air characterized the wedding as well as an indefinable stamp of gracious hospitality, which made the concourse of friends assembled wholly at ease in this lovely home. Decorations were elaborate.

The stairway with its double landings was immediately arresting, as the way for the bridal party to appear. It was all white with graceful festooning of smilax, and newel-posts crowned by silver candelabra with white blazing candles. The white aisle down its length reached to the center of the drawing room where the ceremony was said. The decorations in this room emphasized its every corner; ferns were en masse in each corner; on the mantel two huge vases of Ascension lilies shone in the light of many candles. Smilax-twined white pedestals which flanked the mantel bearing candles in many pronged candelabra with crystal pendants multiplying the gleams. Some vases of gorgeous pink roses about the room gave the touch of color that carried out a general idea of pink and orchid.

The adjoining sun parlor held a quantity of ferns, and across the hall they were again en masse in the dining room, throwing into relief vases and baskets of orchid cypripediums. In table appointments no flowers were used; at the center a magnificent wedding cake rested on the exquisite Florentine cover, built in tiers crowned with a miniature bride and groom, and embossed with a shower bridal bouquet.

A heavy bank of palms and long frond ferns underlined the stairway making it even a more distinctive feature, and to the strains of "Faithful and True," from Lohengrin, the bride came down on the arm of her uncle, Dr. Wm. W. Grant of Denver, Colorado. She was a picture bride in a robe of ivory satin with bodice and sleeves of LaBohème lace which draped diagonally across the skirt and was caught by a huge cabochon of pearls. Her train fell from the shoulders in deep rich folds over which the bridal veil swept. The veil was caught high on her head and held by a coronet-crown of old Duchess lace, which is an heirloom, and orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. They were preceded by the bride's young nephews, Joseph Alexander and William Grant Crook, ribbon bearers, and Blanton Duncan McBride, a nephew of the groom, who bore the ring on a tiny silver tray. They were each in white marine suits, Anne Duckworth and Adelaide Anderson of Memphis, flower girls, wearing the daintiest frocks of flesh-colored chiffon touched with silver; the maid of honor, Miss Ann Green of Virginia, in an exquisite pink tulle feta frock in bouffant style, and trimmed with silver lace medallions and floral touches; Mrs. Jere Crook, matron of honor, wearing a rich flower-like gown of changeable silver and orchid metal-cloth under a robe of orchid sequins with a tulle sash knotted at the side; both she and the maid of honor carried lovely bouquets of pink roses and lavender sweet peas.

The bishop, the groom and his best man, Thomas James of Mississippi, came into the drawing room from another entrance to await the bride's arrival.

Miss Louise Mercer presided at the piano, and followed the bridal march with the softest strains of Chopin's "Love Song."

Mr. Work had been heard with pleasure in three songs—"I Love You" (Sobieski), "O Promise Me" (DeKoven), and "Your Smile a Pearl" (Ward-Stephens).

Among the out-of-town guests present were: Bishop Green, Dr. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson and daughter Adelaide, of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McBride, Blanton Duncan McBride, Mrs. P. S. George, Thomas James of Mississippi, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter McDonald of Nashville.

An elegant supper followed the marriage, served in two courses, with Miss Walker Nance, Mesdames Will Holland, Thos. Polk, R. F. Spragins, I. B. Tigrett, Jesse Armstrong, Ewing Griffin, Fred Smith, Henry White, Jr., assisting.

The bride is from a fine old Virginia family and has made her home for the past three years with her sister, Mrs. Crook. She has a modest and pleasing personality, and fine mental attainment that makes her an addition to any circle. The groom, who is a nephew of Mrs. O. J. Nance, is a planter of the Mississippi delta, and following the honeymoon trip North they will make their home on the plantation.

Mrs. Duncan was dressed for traveling in a modish brown frock of heavy canton crepe, worn with a coat of mink, and other accessories in pretty harmony.

In the rear living room a handsome array of gifts were displayed, attesting the good will of a host of friends. —Jackson (Tenn.) Sun.

Mr. Duncan was born and reared in Grenada where everybody is his friend. He has the happy faculty of his splendid father of taking life's

ONLY A FEW TAXPAYERS GATHERED. DATA READ ON TAXES

The call issued by Mr. Kemp Mattingly, supervisor from district 1, this County, for a meeting of the citizens and the taxpayers of district 1 at the court house last Monday at 11 o'clock for the purpose of hearing a report on the County's finances and what the supervisors had done with the County's money, was not responded to as favorably as might have been expected. There were perhaps not over twenty five, all told, present.

The meeting could have developed into one of more than usual value to the taxpayers had they come out and showed the interest that the situation demands. The matter of taxes and public expenditures is one of serious import to the taxpayer. It is helpful to the spending authorities for those who supply public funds to show a disposition to know the whys and the wherefores of public affairs. As this paper has observed many times before, the running of County and State governments is one of the biggest business problems before the public. And any disposition to take the public into the confidence of officials is right and proper and should be encouraged.

Mr. Mattingly read a part of the figures prepared by the special auditors employed by the County and which were published in The Sentinel during the month of September to refresh the minds of those present as to certain funds and certain expenditures. He also submitted the following figures as to road expenditures for the month for the year 1922: Jan. $1,864.81; Feb. $1,822.42; March, $1,864.41; April $1,076.33; May $760.57; June $1,195.94; July $1,659.56; August $3,649.71; Sept. $2,705.57; Oct. $2,582.74; Nov. $811.44; Dec. $7,489.34, making a total for the year of $21,392.84.

A few observations were made as to assessments and taxes by Messrs. W. F. Martin, R. H. Stokes and J. T. Thomas.

Messrs. J. H. James, supervisor from district 2, and Ira G. Rounsaville, supervisor from district 4, were also present at the meeting.

STRAWBERRY ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

Officers Elected. One Hundred and Thirty Acres Pledged.

There was another meeting at the court house in Grenada last Saturday afternoon to consider the matter of organizing a strawberry association in Grenada County. No publication had been made of the meeting, hence but little was known in advance.

It seems that it was not definitely known until Saturday morning that Mr. Travis, the gentleman from Batesville who has several times before visited the County in the interests of a strawberry association, could be here. He came. The matter was reviewed at length and a report was made by County Farm Agent, E. H. White, on those who had pledged to plant a certain number of acres. It seems that 130 acres are absolutely "signed up" for. The plan is to get at least seventy acres more which it is believed can easily be done.

It was decided to form the organization and elect officers. The following were chosen: Officers: Dr. H. T. Rogers, president; S. T. Tatum, vice president; J. B. Keeton, secretary-treasurer. The following directors were named: Guy James, N. B. Jacks, and W. M. Mitchell. A committee consisting of Dr. Rogers, W. B. Hoffa and J. B. Keeton was named to prepare a statement to the Grenada County public and to urge other farmers to come into the association without delay.

MASONS ELECT OFFICERS

Official for Ensuing Year Chosen

Grenada Lodge No. 31, F. & A. M. at a stated meeting held at Masonic Temple last Monday night chose the following officers:

J. W. Vance, W. M.; Frank York, S. W.; J. M. Brown, J. W.; John P. Pressgrove, treasurer; T. E. Moody, secy.; Henry Thompson, S. & T.; Roy Burt was named by the W. M. elect, S. D., and Dennis Parks was named by the S. W. elect as J. D.

In view of the fact that Mr. J. W. Vance has served so repeatedly and been elected so many times as W. M.; his election at this time was a high compliment to him and will be regarded even by those not Masons as a splendid tribute to the Lodge.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our heartfelt thanks to all of the dear people for being so sweet and attentive to our dear wife and mother during her illness and death. Especially do we appreciate Dr. Coats close attention. J. L. Townes and family. Hardy, Miss., Dec. 8, 1922.

currents philosophically and of smiling and being serene even in the most trying moments. He is attentive to business, persistent in his endeavors, constant in his friendships and loyal in his professions. He has that stalwartness of character and intelligence of mind that qualify him to make a kind and loving husband. The Sentinel congratulates Mr. Duncan and his fair and lovely bride and wishes for their life's richest rewards.

DAIRYING OPPORTUNITY OFFERED COUNTY FARMERS

A Survey Has Been Made of This Territory by a Representative of the Illinois Central Railroad and Grenada Bank With the View of Placing Dairy Cows. Bulls To Be Provided for Free Use. Has Worked Well in Other Localities. Bank Will Loan Money To Buy Cows.

General development agent, H. J. Schwieter, of the Illinois Central railroad, was in Grenada this week attempting to round out and close up the work done in this County by one of his agricultural agents, By Colman, who has been working in conjunction with the Grenada Bank for the purpose of developing an interest in dairying in Grenada County.

A survey has been made of the County to see who could be induced to purchase some high grade or pure bred Jersey cows. The survey shows that there is immediate prospect of locating somewhere between two and three hundred cows in this territory. The Grenada Bank has volunteered to advance the money to farmers who will buy the cows at a low rate of interest, and if the project materializes, as now seems assured, it can safely be stated that the farmers of this locality who invest in the dairy business may count on having money all through the year instead of as it has been for years, only in the cotton marketing season.

A LESSON IN TRUCKING A Few Things Done by E. C. Hayward This Year.

As an example of what may be done in trucking, The Sentinel cites M. E. C. Hayward, living three miles north of Grenada.

Through the kindness and thoughtfulness of Mr. Hayward, the Editor was made the recipient of some of the products of Mr. Hayward's trucking this week which are about as fine as can be shown anywhere. It was indeed a pleasant surprise and is duly appreciated. What was brought to this office was Lookout Mountain, fall grown, Irish potatoes; Porto Rico Yam potatoes, purple top and white globe turnips and a fine squash shaped pumpkin. One of the Porto Rico Yams weighed nearly nine pounds; one of the turnips nearly eight pounds.

Mr. Hayward had one quarter of an acre in Irish potatoes. He has used out of the patch for the past two months and dug just the other day 65 bushels, which is equivalent to a little more than 300 bushels per acre. The potatoes are fine in size and beautifully shaped.

His Porto Rico Yam potatoes yielded about 150 bushels to the acre. These are fine specimens.

Mr. Hayward had only about one tenth of an acre in turnips from which he has sold $15 worth besides has been using out of the patch for his own table. The pumpkins were grown in the corn, after the style of the old time farmer. They required no work and in no way interfered with the growth of the corn. Pumpkins are not only relished by many for table use, but they are fine food and serve as a good tonic for horses, cattle and hogs.

Mr. Hayward is a real farmer, and one of the County's best and most substantial citizens.

Monday afternoon, Dec. 11, the ladies of All Saints Episcopal church met at the Dock home on Depot Street and gave a surprise birthday party in honor of Mrs. Stratton's seventy-ninth birthday.

A very pleasing little talk was made by Mr. Emmerson, the new Rector, and afterward several spoke out of the fullness of their hearts and told of the love of all this congregation for this dear member.

Mrs. Doty presented a gift in the name of all those present.

The tea wagon was rolled in with a beautiful cake on which burned the seventy-nine candles, afterward tea and wafers were served and several selections rendered on the Victrola.

Altogether it was a very happy occasion and all left with the best wishes and hopes that the honoree would see very many happy returns.

Good bulls will be provided for use to the farmers who go into the dairy business. Mr. Schwieter states that some of the agricultural agents of the I. C. railroad will make frequent visits to the farmers who purchase the cows to look after the housing and to give such advice and information as they may as to feeding and caring for these cattle.

The proposition seems assured of the active aid and cooperation of the merchants and other business interests of the town of Grenada. And, what appears in the press and farm journals as well as the statements of those who have visited places where the scheme proposed here is already in operation, is correct, there can be no doubt that farmers of other localities and states are prospering wonderfully on what is being offered the farmers of this territory.

The Illinois Central railroad will cooperate in placing the bulls here. It has encouraged the plans Mr. Schwieter is urging in other places. It seems that an unusual business opportunity is knocking at the doors of Grenada County Farmers.

HURT IN WRECK, CLAIM Grenada Woman Files Suit For $30,000 in Circuit Court

Greenwood, Miss., Dec. 11.—Suit for $30,000 was filed in circuit court here Saturday by Miss Louise Baker of Grenada against Mr. and Mrs. J. H. The plaintiff is represented by Cavles Horton of Grenada and W. M. Whittington of Greenwood.

PLANS FOR BEAUTIFYING HIGHWAY

Mrs. J. P. Broadstreet, who has charge of the work of beautifying the Jefferson Davis Highway, is actively at work on her plans to have planted at intervals of one mile a beautiful tree to serve as a mile post and greatly improve the highway. In the State of Minnesota alone, there are seven thousand miles of highway bordered by avenues of trees on each side at intervals of fifty feet, the trees serving as homes for birds and acting as a windbreak. When the plans of Mrs. Broadstreet have been carried out in this regard, the Jefferson Davis Highway should be one of the prettiest in the country.

This is to warn all that it is strictly against the city ordinance to shoot fireworks in the fire district of the town, and especially on the square and in the business district. It is a dangerous practice and must be stopped. Parents will please caution their children in this matter so as to avoid any unpleasantness and any possible harm or injury that might come as a result of the violation of this ordinance. 12-15-22 S. T. Tatum, Mayor.

THE FEATURE OF CHRISTMAS

Spirit of Generosity and Happiness and Arrival of Old Kris Kringle Completes Program.

THE happiest feature of Christmastide is the spirit of generosity it engenders. The embodiment of this spirit is a Father Christmas, Knight Rupert, or some other mysterious personage, who ubiquitously glides from house to house showering down his gifts for the "weans," and leaving behind him everywhere an atmosphere of cheeriness and genial happiness.

The beneficent belief in this Old World spirit has, happily, spread to almost every corner of the civilized world. In America the German Christ-Kindle or Infant Christ, becomes the Kris Kringle, who like Santa Claus in England, pursues his unimpeded way through keyholes and down sooty chimneys to bestow his gifts upon children that are "good," while Pels-nichol or "Nicholas With the Fur" follows closely upon his heels with a birchen rod for the "naughty."

Long may this belief in Kris Kringle maintain its virile existence, and may the "weans" see little of that chastening rod of Pelsnichol.

SANTA BANNED BY PURITANS

Christmas Was Utterly Denounced as Evil and Ungodly in Early Days.

IN THE early days of America's history Christmas festivities were not generally observed.

In one state the observance of Christmas was utterly denounced as an evil, ungodly and pernicious custom, and any child daring to think of as much as a plum pudding on that day would make himself liable to reproof by the authorities.

All along the stern and rock-bound coast, Geraldine Ames writes in the Churchman, the only Christmas trees in the days of the Puritan domination were those that nature had planted there, and had adorned with fleecy snow. The fires burned brightly on the open hearths, but as far as the children knew, Christmas was just like any other day in the calendar. Even after the Puritan reaction against the forms and customs of the old church had spent itself to some extent the children of the Seventeenth century still expected no gifts in honor of the birth of Christ.

ASK FOR CHRISTMAS PEACE

Let All Pray to God for Perfect Rest and Perfect Power and Perfect Love.

CHRISTMAS peace is God's and he must give it himself, with his own hand, or we shall never get it. Go then to God himself. Thou art his child, as Christmas Day declares: Be not afraid to go unto the Father. Pray to Him; tell Him what thou wantest; say, "Father, I am not moderate, reasonable, forbearing. I fear I cannot keep Christmas aright for I have not a peaceful Christmas spirit in me; and I know that I shall never get it by thinking, and reading, and understanding, for it passes all that, and lies far away beyond it, does peace. In the very essence of thine undivided, unmoved, absolute, eternal Godhead, which no change nor decay of this created world, nor sin or folly of men or devils, can ever alter; but which abideth forever what it is in perfect rest, and perfect power and perfect love. O, Father, give me Thy Christmas peace."—From Town and Country Sermons.

GOOD SCHEME. Doing your Christmas shopping early, ain't you Jones? Well, you see I want to get my wife's Christmas present before my creditors get around to buying their wife's presents.

Christmas Trees and Stockings. Two Christmas practices, both old and very pretty, that have come down to us are the Christmas tree and the hanging up of children's stockings on Christmas eve. Each provides a way of making gifts, and the way provided by the stockings is especially pleasing to children. Perhaps it is going out, but in homes where it is still followed there are delighted children on Christmas morning when the mysteriously-filled stockings are examined in something like awe blended with great pleasure. The Christmas tree survives, and no Christmas school festival is complete without one, brilliant with lights and loaded with presents, presided over by a merry yet venerable Santa Claus.

Christmas Neckties. Some individual with leisure and curious mind has figured out that 90 out of every 100 men receive a necktie as a Christmas gift. The estimate is conservative, but how many of the neckties so bestowed are worn by their recipients? The giving of neckties is a perilous proceeding always, for a necktie is essentially a matter of individual taste. Many a man gets neckwear at Christmas that he could readily enough admire as part of a curtain or a drape, but that he would wear only under the compulsion of a gun leveled at his head.

DODGE BROTHERS SEDAN

Many women who could well afford more expensive closed cars prefer the sedan for their personal use.

They find it easy to drive, easy to park, economical to run, and comparable in the beauty and richness of its appointments with cars much higher in price.

The upholstery is done in genuine mohair velvet of a singularly rich and beautiful pattern. The seats are roomy and luxurious. The hardware and minor fittings reflect thoughtfulness and rare good taste.

Steel disc wheels (with cord tires) screen the under part of the car and harmonize in a most effective way with the new grace and smartness which Dodge Brothers have recently brought to the lines of the body.

ONE NIGHT IS RIGHT

"Proof of the pudding is in the eating," is just as true today as it was when that wise guy first put it out, and it affords us pleasure to apply the old maxim to Spiva's One Night Itch Remedy. We have hundreds of testimonials as to the virtue of this wonderful remedy but have not the space to name them all. However, among the good ones we give you one this week from a Company that has sold this remedy for a number of years and we want you to read what the S. T. Carr Drug Company says of it. This Company is right on the ground where this remedy was originated and knows not only the medicine, but knows the man who made the prescription. Read what Mr. Carr says and write him if in doubt. He will take pleasure in replying to your inquiry:

Louisville, Miss., Nov. 30, 1922.

Gentlemen:

Answering your request for a statement for publication, will say that I began selling Spiva's One Night Itch Remedy 12 months ago, largely because of my confidence in the integrity of its manufacturers, and I soon found that it would give absolute satisfaction. By giving prompt attention to mail orders and guaranteeing it to reputable acquaintances, I have built up a large sale for the store, in fact it is the only Itch Remedy I handle, and I buy one gross at a time. I have sold hundreds of jars on a positive guarantee and no one has complained or asked for his money back. It is my intention to sell it as long as I can get it.

Cordially yours,

EDITING A NEWSPAPER

Editing a newspaper is a pleasant business—if you can stand it.

If it contains any advertisements, the subscribers claim they take too much space.

If there is a scarcity of advertising it is unpopular, and the people won't have it.

If we attend church regularly, they say we do it for effect.

If we stay away from church, they say we are monstrously heathenish.

If we accept an invitation to a wedding, they say we are invited to "write it up."

If we are on the streets much, they say we neglect our business.

If we avoid going on the street, they say we don't hustle around at the news.

If we reject a long winded communication, its author becomes furiously enraged and discontinues his paper.

If we publish lengthy communications our subscribers say we lack discretion, and put it in to fill up.

If we omit to decorate our office window on Washington's birthday, they say we lack enterprise and that there isn't a drop of patriotic blood in our degenerate carcass. If we omit jokes, they say we are poor miserable fossils.

If we are single, they say we are too helpless to get married.

If we are married, they say it's a pity for our wives.

If we publish a man who has brought disgrace upon his family, the friends of the family never forgive us.

If we, out of the goodness of heart decline to say anything on the subject, the man's enemies are disappointed, and we are branded as white-livered cowards.

We are liable to receive these raps and many more and we are always ready to receive visitors, whether accompanied by dog or not. Of course we do not claim there is any work in running a newspaper. Everybody knows it's a snap.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney troubles and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Grenada man says:

A. D. Collins, grocer, 107 1st St., gave the following statement June 14, 1918: "Sometime ago I had a severe cold that settled on my kidneys. They became weak and disordered and my back ached by spells. I was generally run down and had a tired feeling while the backache lasted. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and decided to get a box at the Second Class Drug Store. After using them, the trouble disappeared and I felt better in every way. I have never since had a return attack of kidney trouble."

On April 12, 1922, Mr. Collins added: "I have never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I recommended them in 1918. They cured me and the cure has stood the test of years but I still praise and recommend Doan's to my friends."

WRETCHED HEALTH
A THING OF PAST

Mrs. Enoch Bronsard Says Stella Vitae Was Only Thing That Saved Her.

"Stella Vitae not only put an end to all my troubles but it saved me from expenses that would have counted up into the hundreds if I had taken everything I was recommended to do," said Mrs. Enoch Bronsard, Canal Street, Jeanette, Louisiana.

"I don't believe anybody ever suffered more than I did from all those complications that affected me. It looked like I just couldn't get rid of those awful headaches and pains in my back and legs; and that stomach trouble that worried me, too; for after nearly every meal I would be in great distress, and such an awful time I had with my nerves. Why, they were just worn to a frazzle and I couldn't sleep half the time when I went to bed.

"I am grateful, too, for getting rid of those spells of dizziness that would come on me, for Stella Vitae soon put an end to them and I am now in fine shape and able to enjoy life once more. I am certainly glad to recommend Stella Vitae to all women who suffer as I have."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold under the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Druggists are supplied from the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn., Distributors.—Adv.

NEGRO BISHOP GIVES HIS PEOPLE ADVICE

Would Discourage Movement Of Negroes From South To The North.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 10.—Attributing the migration to the north of southern negroes which has been recently reported in full swing, partly to fear of the K.K.K. and partly to harsh treatment of negro tenants by their landlords, W. D. Chappelle, Bishop of the South Carolina Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, announced today he had appealed to the ministers of all churches in his charge to discourage the movement.

Chappelle said he had recently made a tour of investigation of the negro districts of New York, to which city he said Carolina negroes in common with those from other southern states were flocking, and he declared he found conditions of housing and sanitation much worse there than in the South.

Churches of his conference have lost from five thousand to eight thousand members in the last year, he estimated. Regarding the Ku Klux Klan, he declared: "The negroes are afraid of it, and it is a menace to a 'settling down' among them here." In many cases, he declared, landlords have not been lenient with tenant farmers whose crops have been destroyed by the boll weevil, and as a result these farmers have moved to northern cities, where they expect to obtain work at good wages.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF GRENADA COUNTY

In the minds of 90 per cent of the people of Mississippi Russell is guilty of immoral conduct with Frances Birkhead. Of course the reverse of the proposition is that Frances Birkhead is guilty of immoral conduct with Russell, but she is not Governor nor does she pose as a leader of anything.

In the last analysis, it appears that the Birkhead-Russell suit narrows down to a fight between Bilbo and Russell. Well, we have heard something about certain people getting their dug when certain others fall out. We once read a story of a fight between two bull skunks but we never thought one would be staged in Mississippi.

C. T. Rand, who has for several years edited the Neshoba Democrat and who only recently became the owner or the Tunica Times, is a brilliant young man and is destined to occupy a large place in the newspaper world. Rand was only recently named by the national editorial association to a high place which will perhaps require him to go abroad.

The Newton Record, one of the cleanest and best newspapers in Mississippi, celebrated its 21st birthday last week. We congratulate our friend, Claude Cunningham, its editor. Cunningham is as straight as a die and as clean as a hound's tooth. Claude says, in celebrating his paper's majority, that he does "not expect to get rich" nor does he want to be rich, that he "would rather be right than rich". Fine phrase, brother. But alas, there are not many newspaper men who are bothered with riches. But it is well to so conduct yourself as an editor that you can look any man in the face, if the occasion requires, and tell him to hunt the fires that Satan keeps chunked up. And there are not many editors who are striving to make their papers a lasting service who do not at times feel that that needs to be said.

THE HOME MERCHANTS

With the Christmas shopping coming to full tide within a few days, it is timely to urge the patronage of home industries and the doing of as much as possible of the holiday buying in Hattiesburg, where the merchants are prepared to supply all demands at reasonable prices.

Every merchant at this season takes especial thought for supplying his customers. If he knows of their desires in time, he can add things to his stock which he would not carry even at the gift season. Too often he is criticised for not carrying an extensive line when all he needs is the incentive.

Much of the home merchant's profit goes back into the town. All of it helps him to raise the standard of his service at all seasons. He gives of his best in ordinary times. He should have first call when larger spending is in order.—Hattiesburg American.

We wish it were possible for us to gather all the good things that are being furthered for even a few weeks by our friends, Merriweather of the Mississippi Sun, Hight of the Winston County Journal, Harris of the Madison County Herald, Cunningham of the Newton Record, Saunders of the Kosciusko Star-Ledger, Lewis of the Woodville Republican and Wood of the Winona Times and mirror them before the people of Mississippi so that they might the better understand what the newspapers of the State are trying to do for the moral and material development of our State. And there are many others that are just as seriously and earnestly devoting the columns of their papers to the general development of the State, as these. Every religious move has the aid and encouragement of these newspapers. Everything that is designed to aid and encourage better conditions for the farmers and every other class—still we will bet a dollar there are a few leeches and others in their communities who would damn these editors.

WHAT THE COUNTRY NEEDS

In enumerating the necessities of the present day, an exchange well says:

"What this country needs is not a new birth of freedom, but the old-fashioned $2 lower berth.

"What this country needs isn't more liberty, but fewer people who take liberties with our liberty.

"What this country needs is not a job for every man, but a real man for every job.

"What this country needs isn't to get more taxes from the people, but for the people to get more from the taxes.

"What this country needs is not more miles of territory, but more miles to the gallon.

"What this country needs is more tractors and less detractors.

"What this country needs isn't more young men making speen but more young men planting spuds.

"What this country needs is more paint on the old place, and less paint on the young face.

"What this country needs isn't a lower rate of interest on money, but a higher interest in work.

"What this country needs is to follow the footsteps of the fathers instead of the footsteps of the dancing masters."

WE CONGRATULATE HOWARD WILLIAMS

Howard Williams, the brilliant editor of the Hattiesburg American, has made a profession of religion and united with the church as one of the many good results of the Gypsy Smith revival meeting in progress at Hattiesburg. A great majority of the editors have long been identified with some branch of the Christian church, but it is reassuring to see still others added to this list.

Fred Sullens is one of the noted converts in Mississippi. Fred is desperately in earnest about anything he engages in and he seems to have added new zeal and new power to his life since he chose to align himself with the organized agencies for the moral and spiritual uplift of his fellowman.

We look for great things now from Howard Williams. Howard moves with electric-like motion. He is meteoric. Regardless of what these men or any other editors may do in a personal way, the fact that their newspapers stand openly for the church means a great deal in furthering the cause of better things in the State.

The editors who have never been among the "lost sheep" and who have for years been aligned with the church should take consolation in others coming to the position they have so long held.

Chaos may sometimes appear to hold sway. Undoubtedly the world is unsettled, but out of the struggle will come better and greater and grander things. The world is growing better. Men are striving to think and act more in accord with the Sermon on the Mount.

THE RUSSELL-BIRKHEAD SEDUCTION SUIT

Our news columns carry the story of the outcome of the suit at Oxford filed last February in the federal court by Miss Birkhead against Gov. Lee M. Russell for $100,000 on the charge of seduction.

When this suit was filed we stated in our editorial columns that, "We think the matter should be left to the courts. The Governor is entitled to a fair trial, and while the suit is not filed on a criminal basis, the law holds one innocent until shown to be guilty."

The trial has been had. The verdict has been rendered. The best thought of Mississippi is glad the vulgar and salacious proceedings are over.

But while this is true, we had best look the situation the suit presents squarely in the face.

The jury did not pass upon Gov. Russell's guilt or innocence, but it did say by its verdict that Miss Birkhead had not established to its satisfaction her innocence and purity of life before her association with Gov. Russell.

Let it be remembered that the jury was composed of men and that there was not a woman on it; and it is no extravagant stretch of the imagination to surmise that there was not a single member of the panel who would not have fled had he been put to the test that those men were when they brought the woman to our Savior on the charge of adultery. Our wager is that there was not a SINGLE modern Joseph on the jury.

These facts were established at this trial: Miss Birkhead did work for Gov. Russell while he was Lieutenant Governor as a stenographer; she went from Jackson to Oxford with him and worked in his law office and lived in his own home after he said he knew her to be an unchaste woman; after she became ill and went to Memphis, she had letters from him which showed a rather peculiar interest in the welfare of a dissolute woman; it was shown by Gov. Russell's own witnesses that Miss Birkhead was given money at different times and particularly was she given $90 at one time and $600 at another to "hush up" on the charges against Mr. Russell. It is true that these witnesses stated that this money was made up by Gov. Russell's friends and without his knowledge and given the woman, but we respectfully ask, "Who believes that any man or set of men would have paid that much to any man or woman to hush up or stop a charge which was absolutely without any foundation?" Let all who say that such acts are those of sane and reasonable men, stand on their heads while we count.

Many of the Bilbo-Vardaman-Russell clan gathered at Oxford to scotch for the Governor during the trial. They were there no doubt to help create sentiment and presumably to whisper some friendly word to some unwary juror. Many of the clan present are on the State's payroll and some of them travel sometimes at the State's expense. Time will show whether or not the taxpayers of Mississippi paid their expenses at Oxford. If the State of Mississippi footed any of the expense bills of those who went to Oxford to help brace the Governor, let's find whose expenses were paid and the excuse under which they were paid.

By way of parenthesis just here we will say, that we are wondering if the testimony developed what the sergeants and others on the State penitentiary pay roll were assessed to aid the Governor in combatting this suit?

If Gov. Russell had really been sincere in wanting to help a fallen woman, why did he not make an effort to get her a place where she could earn an honest living or a place in a "home for fallen women"?

These observations are made with a knowledge of the charges that rest against Miss Birkhead. She has not conducted herself since the suit was instituted so as to win the confidence or incite the interest of the better thinking element of the people.

The circumstances and facts developed seem to warrant that there can be little doubt that she was insanely in love with Russell and that she was jealous in the extreme of those she found at work in his office after he became Governor and when she had regained her health sufficiently as she seemed to think to go to work again.

And of the many lessons that should be learned from an affair that has not tended to improve the bad impression that has gained currency abroad during the past eight years of some of Mississippi's public officials, this one stands out as a warning to young womanhood and to those fathers and mothers who have sweet and innocent daughters carried into the whirl of busy city life: Young women, beware of the snares of men who seek by artifice of friendship or otherwise to get you to discard those beautiful and sublime lessons taught you back in the old home and around that fireside where the most sacred memories linger. "Be sure your sins shall find you out."

THE HABIT OF CURSING

Any time is a good time to quit a bad habit, but the time is here when it might be done more easily.

Gipsy Smith is appealing to the people to turn to God, and if they do this they do a thousand-fold more than stop using profane language. The beginning of another month will usher in a new year, and new years have often been "swearing-off time." New Year resolutions don't last, it is said. Often that is true, but those that do last are worth while, and all are good while they last.

Especially is this true of taking the name of the Lord in vain.

There is not a more foolish or useless habit that can be as easily, without knowing it, formed, than that of cursing.

It is not only a disgusting habit, impolite and shows a lack of good breeding to the extent of its use, but it is dangerous.

God says thou shalt not take His name in vain.

Not very long ago we heard a minister say that when God says "Thou shalt not" that He means what He says, and says it in the strongest way that can be found.

There is absolutely no excuse for cursing or the use of profane language. As the Hattiesburg American has previously said, it is a HABIT with most people.

But have you ever stopped to think how many things, bad things, become habits, often from a small beginning?

It is said that "out of the fullness of the heart, the mouth speaketh." If this be applied literally to people who use profane language, the hearts of some must be cesspools of sin and wickedness in God's sight, for God is the only one who can see the wickedness of the human heart.

Sometimes, not, often, but sometimes, shame to relate, a woman is heard to utter words that are profane, and silly people smile and think it cute or that it shows that over-worked word, "pep", which has been made to do duty in and out of season. Not many women use profanity, or even have a tendency that way; but men use it, many of them, when there is no excuse for it.

We have heard young boys, sometimes not yet to the "teen age", use language that would make a hardened sailor turn blue with envy, based on the assumption and statement that a man curses is very proficient in a sinful and unnecessary habit.

Once formed, it is difficult to quit, but an effort is worth while.

Stop this habit. It is so useless and unnecessary and takes from the effect of words and thoughts that

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT AGENT IN GRENADA

Mr. H. J. Schwieter, General Development Agent of the Illinois Central, was in the city Wednesday forenoon conferring with our business men regarding the dairy development in the Grenada trade territory. Mr. Schwieter has had one of his Agricultural Agents, Mr. Ben Colman, working in conjunction with the Grenada Bank, making a survey of the territory and calling on farmers in the communities surrounding here to ascertain how many farmers would like to purchase cows and the number each would want. These cows to be high grade or purebred Jerseys. The survey has been completed, or practically so and the outlook is for between 200 and 300 cows.

Mr. Thomas has agreed to loan the money to the farmers for the purchase of these cows at a low rate of interest. Good bulls are to be provided for free use of the farmers who make the purchase and go into the dairy business. The business men have agreed to undertake the establishment of a local creamery if the farmers will get the cows, thus insuring a local market for their cream.

Mr. Schwieter states he will have his agricultural agents cooperate with the farmers conferring with them frequently on proper housing, feeding and care of their herds. We believe this plan as outlined by Mr. Schwieter if followed up and carried out would be a great thing for this territory and we urge our business men to get behind the movement and put it over. It has proven a success in other sections of the country. It can be done here with great profit and benefit to all concerned.

In this connection we should raise more hogs as we have a splendid market at Memphis Packing plant, who only recently have had to go outside the Memphis trade territory for a supply of hogs. More dairy cows, more hogs, and more poultry will be the making of our farmers and Grenada.

The Illinois Central has done some great development work in Mississippi and wherever the communities have adopted the plans outlined by Mr. Schwieter they have succeeded.

EDUCATION—RURAL SCHOOLS

Education week has been generally observed throughout the country. It was not a celebration, but an agitation. In the matter of education we have more to strive for than to applaud.

There is something significant in the disposition of educators, from the humblest country school teacher to the United States commissioner of education, to combine their efforts in one enterprise. It means a great deal to the future of the country.

The average American is an optimist. He believes his institutions and his government are the best to be found. He is apt to look with misgiving at anyone who suggests that we have not yet fully realized in this country the ideals of democracy. It may come as a shock to the average citizen to be told that there is literally no equality in the educational opportunities now provided by the public schools of the United States.

Educators and those interested in the subject of education have long realized the situation, and the public generally is awakened to it as equal opportunity becomes more general. In recent years many surveys have been made and the result has revealed in each instance a tremendous responsibility. It is not possible to remedy the situation by devoting attention to the individual. The solution lies in better trained and more efficient teachers. Efficiency in every line must be paid for. Inefficiency is waste.

The bulk of illiteracy is, of course, to be found in the rural districts. States possessing communities remote from modern life, conveniences and enlightening influences are credited with the largest percentage of illiteracy.

Perhaps the fault lies in the failure to adapt education to the needs of the people. The country school is a great problem. The city schools are well financed, the pupils are well provided for, have all conveniences and every encouragement offered to take advantage of opportunities made available.

With the country school it is different. Our country schools are poor imitations of city schools. The education the pupils in the country receive trains them for the city and not for the country. Either lack of educational facilities or an educational system fundamentally wrong, or perhaps both, are factors in the trend of youth from the country to the city.

The cities are growing at the expense of the country. The cities are increasing in population, while the country is depleted. Competition in the cities is keen. Hundreds are constantly in search of employment, while it is becoming increasingly more difficult to secure labor necessary to till the soil and cultivate the crops.

Education has received a tremendous impetus in recent years. Everyone talks about it and agrees on the fundamental question and consents to appropriations in excess of anything heretofore made, but the real solution lies in recognizing the necessity for a distinct policy of education in the country from that in the city.

The country school should be far more extensive than it is—an agency for making education universal. It ought to get down to the heart of things by making educational processes a part of life. The life of the rural neighborhood and its physical surroundings constitute the most wonderful plant in the world. No city school can by any possibility acquire the paraphernalia for educational purposes that every country school possesses, and if it did, it would not relate to the lives of the pupils and their parents.

Yet, in no school is instruction so divorced from life as in the country. The school district, and for that matter each farm, is geography, political, physical and descriptive. The crops are model lessons in botany. The study of the soil involves chemistry, geology, physics, bacteriology and botany. Every plant is a course of study in itself. Even the weeds constitute a course of study. The seeds in the grain make lessons easy in mathematics.

The country schools should teach the reason why a certain field needs to be limed before it will produce a leguminous crop, and why legumes when plowed down add fertility to the soil. It should teach its pupils to understand what constitutes fertility, to understand the need for nitrogen in the soil and other chemical elements found in the soil in such limited quantities that they must be conserved.

The average pupil in the country school would look upon the study of chemicals as a scientific work belonging to some other educational system, and yet the schools in which they are taught find them unnecessary in their daily life. It is not that these elements constitute a study in the sciences that they should be taught, but because they relate to the life and activity of every person who earns his living from the product of the soil.

The country school should teach the value of phosphorus and potassium, where they may be found and in what quantities, about nitrate deposits of Chile and their rapid depletion; where the nitrogen of the future for the enrichment of the soil is to come from when the Chilean deposits are exhausted or so depleted as to make it impracticable to purchase. The air is charged with nitrogen and the question of how it may be extracted and applied to the soil is a subject of consuming interest and vital importance.

The rural school constitutes one of the great undeveloped assets of American life. We have failed to capitalize the asset and develop it along distinctive lines. The pupils in the rural schools are bright, eager and ambitious. They respond to every interest manifested in their behalf. They have responded in the past to the educational advantages offered them by leaving the country and going to the cities.

We should adopt an entirely new policy with respect to the rural schools, and one day the people will emigrate from the cities to the farms instead of from the farms to the cities in order that their children may have the advantage of rural educational facilities.—News Scimitar.

CARD GAMES AT CHRISTMAS

Thin Pasteboards Afforded Means of Entertainment in England During Yuletide Season.

A UNIVERSAL Christmas custom of England in olden times was playing at cards. Persons who never touched a card at any other season of the year felt bound to play a few games at Christmas.

A prohibitory statute of Henry VIII's reign forbade card playing save during the Christmas holidays. Of course this prohibition extended only to persons of humble rank.

Sir Roger De Coverley took care to provide both creature comfort and amusement for his neighbors at Christmas by sending "a string of hog's puddings and a pack of cards" to every poor family in the parish.

Even the pupil comes in for its share of anecdotes regarding playing cards. Fuller gives an example of a clergyman preaching from Romans 12:3, "As God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith." The reverend gentleman in question adopted as an illustration of his discourse the metaphor of "dealing" as applied to cards, reminding his congregation that they should follow suit, ever play above board, improve the gifts dealt out to them, take care of their trumps, play promptly when it came their turn, etc.

Short notes were frequently written on the backs of playing cards. In an old collection of poetry is found the following lines:

"To a Lady Who Sent Her Compliments to a Clergyman on the Ten of Hearts."

"Your compliments, dear lady, pray forbear,
"Old English services are more sincere;

"You send ten hearts—the title is only mine,
"Give me but one and burn the other nine."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS TREE

History of the Yuletide Emblem Extends Far Into the Mists of Antiquity

THE history of Christmas tree usage extends far into the mists of antiquity. Some say its origin is connected with the legendary Tree of Time, Yggdrasil, the great tree of Norse mythology, within whose roots and branches heaven and earth are bound. Some say the custom may be traced to the Egyptians who, at the time of the winter solstice, decorated their portals with branches of the date palm.

To a Scandinavian legend may perhaps be traced our custom of illuminating the tree when darkness comes. Among the Greeks, Christmas is known as the feast of lights. To people of different localities today the term Christmas tree may mean fir, spruce, pine, cedar or even magnolia, for each particular region makes use of the most suitable species that is to be found near its markets. In the vicinity of the mid-west, a short-needle pine found in Michigan and Wisconsin may be used. On the Pacific coast the white fir finds favor, while throughout Ohio, the Norway spruce is largely used. In Maryland and Virginia, the scrub pine and farther south cedar and holly. Best of all is the symmetrical balsam fir, each tiny leaf of which sends out a breath of aromatic fragrance.

AN OLD CHRISTMAS CUSTOM

Village Boys in North England Reproduce Play That Is as Old as the Race.

IN THE North of England some of the oldest of our Christmas customs are still faithfully observed. One of the quaintest is that of the village boys who call themselves "The Mummers." At Christmas time they perform a little play that is as old as the English race.

There are three chief characters—St. George, resplendent in silver-pierced armor, and brandishing a wooden sword; Beelzebub, who is, of course, the famous dragon; and the Doctor, who wears a battered top-hat.

At the beginning of the play it is announced that the countryside is being laid waste by Beelzebub. Various minor characters make an appeal for deliverance from the monster's sway. Then St. George bursts upon the scene. A fierce battle takes place, in which he slays Beelzebub, but is himself badly wounded. At this point the Doctor rushes in with a bottle, which he places to the saint's lips.

"Tak soom o' mah nift-naff dahn thy tiff-taff," he prescribes. So George drinks and is cured.

Some of the words used in the play are so old that neither the boys nor the majority of the audience can understand them.

WEEKLY LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

By W. F. Bond, State Superintendent

Dr. H. M. Ivy, State High School Supervisor, attended the meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and High Schools held at New Orleans last week. He recommended that several of our high schools be admitted to the All-Southern list. It is very likely, therefore, that the number of Mississippi schools on this list will be increased from nineteen, the number last year, to twenty-five or thirty. To get on this list the schools must meet certain conditions in reference to the qualifications of the faculty, number of children per teacher, equipment for teaching Science, and the number and kinds of books in the library. Graduates of these schools are admitted without question to all the colleges in the United States.

Residents of North Mississippi became enthusiastic over polo when the game was played for the first time in that part of the South at the North Mississippi Fair at Grenada October 23 to 27, inclusive, according to the December issue of the Illinois Central Magazine. Four teams competed for the championship of Mississippi, a game being played at the close of the program each day. The team that represented Glenwild Plantation, near Grenada, was victorious. John Borden, of Chicago and Glenwild Plantation, was responsible for the introduction of the game. He is one of the most earnest supporters of polo in America, and is considered a player of exceptional ability.

LIFE INSURANCE COSTING HUGE SUM IN UNITED STATES

American People Buying Over Nine Billions Worth This Year.

New York, Dec. 12.—The American people are buying $9,300,000,000 of new life insurance this year, according to the reports of 158 companies, submitted at the Sixteenth Annual Convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. This is $600,000,000 more than was bought in 1921. This increase is regarded by the leaders of the convention as reflecting improved business and economic conditions generally throughout the country for the current year.

The new life insurance this year will show an increase of nearly 7 per cent over the production of 1921 and will place the total old line life insurance in force on American lives at the end of 1922 well beyond $50,000,000,000.

This survey of the new business produced in the United States this year was presented to the convention by Frank H. Davis, Second Vice-President of the Equitable Life Insurance society of New York who said:

"A record of the current sales of life insurance is now considered a necessary integral factor in constructing a satisfactory barometer of national business conditions. An approximation of this year's business, therefore, must be of special interest in measuring the recovery from economic depression.

"To secure as accurate a survey of this year's situation as possible all of the life insurance companies writing business last year were requested to submit estimates of this year's business based upon a month's actual and two months' approximated business. Reports have been received from 158 companies, which wrote 98 per cent of the total new business paid for during 1921. These reports aggregate $9,150,000,000. Applying to the 2 per cent not heard from the same ratio for new business as experienced by the 98 per cent heard from it is estimated that the total insurance paid for during 1922 in all American companies will amount to $9,300,000,000 as against $8,700,000,000 for last year.

"Thus the American people during the present year will have six hundred million dollars more new life insurance than they did in 1921, an increase of nearly 7 percent over last year. Nineteen twenty remains the banner year for new life insurance production, for in those twelve months the American people absorbed more than ten billion dollars of new life insurance. Last year's production was 13 per cent short of that amount, while this year's new life insurance comes close to the record of 1920, furnishing irrefutable evidence that the country's recovery from the post-war business depression has so far progressed as to indicate a largely increased purchasing power generally on the part of the American people.

"Striking significance attaches to the new life insurance production of 1922 when the year's results are pictured with a background of prior accomplishment. Add the nine and one third billion dollars of new business, after making due allowance for shrinkage from terminations, maturities, lapses, surrenders and other deductions, to the forty-six billion dollars in force on American lives at the close of last year, and you will bring the total of old line life insurance protection in this country well past the fifty billion dollar mark.

"Compare the amount of life insurance now in force with the situation a decade or two ago and then the rapid increase in life insurance protection in recent years appears instantly. Twenty years ago, at the close of 1902, the total life insurance in force was $10,200,000,000. During each of the last three years the amount produced annually has nearly reached that total. Ten years later at the close of 1912, insurance in force amounted to $19,500,000,000, or nearly double the amount in force at the beginning of that decade. For the same rate and at the end of 1916 we find $24,000,000,000 of life insurance in force. Since 1916, however, increases have been made by leaps and bounds, and the 500 billion dollars or more in force at the end of 1922 will represent double the amount in force six years ago and almost five times the amount in force twenty years ago."

Do not hesitate because it costs so little, in truth, many insurance policies cost too much. We are only enabled to make this extra ordinary offer because of some special arrangements we have made.

Some of the largest daily newspapers in the United States, more than 200 of them in all, are offering this same insurance policy contract to their readers. Among the newspapers it might be mentioned that President Harding's paper, the Marion Star, at Marion, Ohio; The Washington City Herald; The Times Journal and scores upon scores of other newspapers.

Knowing that there is nothing too good for Sentinel readers, we made an investigation and got the privilege of selling these polices to our readers.

No such opportunity was ever before offered as this Reader Insurance Policy. It is a bonafide travel and accident policy put out by an Old Line Insurance Company.

While doing a real, a genuine, service for our readers, we make it easier for one to pay his or her subscription.

The cost is just a little over 1-4 of one cent a day--just think of it. Who would not be willing to double this small amount tomorrow morning as a guarantee against accidents?

DON'T DELAY. TIME IS TOO PRECIOUS. ACCIDENTS ARE TOO FREQUENT. THINK ABOUT WHAT SECURITY A $1000 ACCIDENT INSURANCE POLICY WILL MAKE YOU FEEL.

The policy is issued to both men and women between the ages of 16 and 70 for white and colored people. No red tape. No medical examination required.

The newspapers are full of stories of automobile and other accidents every day. You may be the next.

The Sentinel believed that it would be doing something worth while if it could find a way to protect its readers against such misfortunes at a small cost.

as, is visiting at the home of her nephew, Mr. R. Pressgrove, and family in Grenada. Mrs. Ross was originally Miss Dabe Rice, a daughter of Mr. Greek P. Rice and sister of the late Lent L. Rice of Charleston. She is a typical Rice which means that she is an exceptionally excellent lady one true to all the ideals that made the happy homes that adults of the present day are so fond of referring to.

Miss Mary Roane returned home Monday at noon from Memphis where she had been for several weeks the guest of friends.

But one more week for Christmas pects to return to school the first of the year.

the first part of the week in Greenwood.

At the next regular meeting of the Grenada Opera House on Wednesday afternoon, January 10th, 1923, a special picture program will be given at which one of the attractions will be the presentation of Sargent's Ffizee. The program is an unusually entertaining and instructive one and the meeting should be well attended.

AN APPEAL FOR THE WILSON FOUNDATION

Grenada County Expected To Contribute $100.

I have been taught when a duty or an obligation was placed upon me to try to meet it.

I have been named without my knowledge or consent to direct the work of raising $100 in Grenada County towards completing the million dollars for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

This movement, as most of us remember, was conceived in the mind of a woman, it therefore seems to me that the appeal for funds should especially elicit the active interest and the cooperation of the ladies of the County.

I feel that it is needless for me to say that no part of the funds or of the interest arising from the funds is to be shared by our great Ex-President. The foundation is designed to create a fund out of which gifts or awards may be made for any high or noble effort. It is planned to use the fund somewhat upon the plan the Noble Prizes are given. The purpose is noble. The aim is worthy.

The end to be accomplished cultivates a spirit of service and tends to make us all crown the good deeds and lofty sentiments of our fellows with becoming reward.

What would the world be without our monuments? What would our country be without a knowledge and reverence for the lives and character of Washington, Jefferson, Adams, Jackson, Davis, Lee, Lincoln, Cleveland, McKinley, Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson?

One of the worst things that Mr.
Wilson's enemies charge him with is his idealism. That is a tribute to him. That very allegation teaches a lesson that we should all learn, and incorporate into our lives. Many of our wisest and best men say now that we are too much time servers and that we subscribe too much to the idea that "end justifies the means."

Woodrow Wilson's name will stand high on the pages of history. He will be numbered with the country's greatest, most patriotic and brainy men. Let Grenada County have a part in this Foundation Fund.

Who WILL BE THE FIRST TO MAKE A DONATION? I hope that I shall have enough voluntary responses as to make it unnecessary for me to canvass at all for this fund-- one that the whole Nation is having a part in.

Mr. Frank Yorks,
Director for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation Fund for Grenada County.

$1,000 ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR SENTINEL READERS

$2.50 Gets Paper One Year and Insurance for 12 Months.

The newspapers of the country have been able to secure concessions that enables them to place an Accident Insurance Policy with their readers for practically a song.

For $2.50, we will send The Sentinel one year and write the subscriber an Accident Insurance Policy, which runs for one year, in the North American Accident Insurance Co. of Chicago. It is an old line company.
The policy is a standard policy. We write it on ages from 16 to 70, either man or woman. No medical examination. No red tape. In case of being killed by accident, the policy pays $1,000. For disability from accident of any kind, policy pays a weekly indemnity of $10 per week for 3 months. For loss of both feet, or one hand and one foot, of both hands,
one hand and one foot, of both hands,
and one eye, of both eyes, policy pays $1000. Loss of either hand, foot or of one eye, $500.

There was nothing ever before to equal it. There were never before so many accidents, and it behooves the wise, the sensible, the thinking man to protect against accidents.

Then besides this remarkably low price for SO MUCH, we give tickets in the $300 Gold Contest.

There was never before a newspaper in all the history of Grenada County that made an offer equal to what we are making today.

Get into The Sentinel's SUB-SCRIPTION CRUSADE. We give tickets with every dollar in Gold Contest besides other things.

MRS. W. E. FARR'S FATHER PASSES AWAY

Mrs. W. E. Farr has the sympathy of the community over the loss of her father, Mr. I. V. Brister, whose death occurred the latter part of last week at his home at Bogue Chitto.
Mr. Brister has been a sufferer for some time from paralysis and his death was not unexpected. Mrs.
Farr was summoned to his bedside the early part of last week and was with him when the end came.

UNION SERVICE SUNDAY NIGHT

The churches of Grenada will join in a union service Sunday night, Dec.
17, at the Methodist church. A very fine program of readings and vocal and instrumental music, the feature of which will be the Christmas Cantata, has been arranged by Mrs.
Anna Ellis Dexter, the head of the Department of Music at Grenada College and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend the service.

WILL ADVERTISE FARMS FOR SALE IN NORTH AND WEST

It is our purpose to advertise farms and other property listed for sale with us in northern and in the middle west sections. There are many people from those sections casting eyes in this direction. They have the money, and we need more people and more capital in this section. So if your property is listed at anything like reasonable figures, we feel that we will be sure to secure some prospective purchasers.

FACTS ABOUT SERUM PLANT MEAT

There are about twenty thousand serum hogs butchered in the U. S.
monthly; practically all of these hogs are sold to the Packers in Kansas City, Omaha, and St. Louis. These hogs are under constant inspection of the U. S. Government, and they must be absolutely sound in every respect for the Government to release them for human consumption, therefore, they bring a premium.

The hogs handled at the Cotton States Serum Company are subject to the same inspection as those furnished by the large Packers.

On Jan. 20th, 1922, the Cotton States Serum Company was granted Federal Meat Inspection which means that no hog is permitted to leave their plant until it has been thoroughly inspected and bears the Government Inspection mark.

It is a known fact that hogs carry disease communicable to people such as tuberculosis, etc. This danger is eliminated when hogs have undergone Government Inspection.

There were 122,609 hogs condemned and destroyed by the U. S.
Government inspectors last year or practically 2% of all hogs killed.
The greater portion of these hogs were condemned for tuberculosis, therefore, Government Inspected meat is worth a premium.

DR. JAMES R. KIDWELL, OSTEOPATH

Among Grenada's professional men, The Sentinel is glad to note Dr.
James R. Kidwell, osteopath.

The osteopathic treatment of certain diseases is recognized now all over the civilized world. The ablest and most learned among the doctors of medicine not only recognize the worth of osteopathy now, but patronize it themselves. The best among the Doctors now want to keep their friends and patients well. They are in the practice of medicine not because of the money they make, but because of what they hope to do for humanity. Hence it is that there has grown up a bond of union between the medical profession and the profession of osteopathy.

Dr. Kidwell was in Grenada a few months last year before he obtained his degree at the greatest school of osteopathy in the world. He was trained by a father and a mother who are osteopaths. Hence it is bred in his bones. He is a talented young man. He is desperately in earnest in his work. He is blessed with that common sense and intuition that equip him to see things from other than a scientific view point. And there can be no question that he is one of the best equipped osteopaths in all the country.

Osteopathy has done some wonderful things for afflicted humanity.
The high and the low, the rich and the poor avail themselves of it, and The Sentinel considers that Grenada is fortunate, that the people of this section of the state are to be congratulated in having a man of Dr.
Kidwell's training and equipment in their midst.

Dr. Kidwell's office is in the Heath building right next to the office of Dr. J. Sidney Sharp.

Remember that The Sentinel is prepared to furnish the most handsome and the most elegant engraved wedding invitations. They are equal to any and excelled by none.
